

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the presidential election is a matter of great concern to voters like myself.

When large companies control the airwaves, using stations obligated to serve the public interest, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

This action by Sinclair Broadcasting shows why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. This further demonstrates why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you for your kind consideration.
